ANTIQUES & GARDEN SHOW NASHVILLE

Cultivated Style
Feb 3-5, 2017
Music City Center

2017 Keynote Speaker, Nate Berkus | 2017 Honorary Chair, Gil Schafer

The Antiques and Garden Show of Nashville is now the longest-running, largest and most respected event of its kind in the country. Held at the award-winning Music City Center in the epicenter of Nashville's thriving downtown entertainment district, our show will once again breathe its warmth, life and style into the heart of winter, February 3-5, 2017 - with over 150 antiques, art and horticultural exhibitors, magnificent gardens, a cocktail party or two - and some of the most renowned design, landscape and architectural speakers in the world. Now celebrating our 27th year, this volunteer-managed show has raised nearly $7 million for Cheekwood and charities supported by the Economic Club of Nashville (ECON).

Our Beneficiaries

Cheekwood

Cheekwood is Nashville's beloved 1930's-era 55-acre estate, Botanical Garden and Museum of Art. Awarded the honor of "Top 10 Best Public Gardens" in the USA Today Reader's Choice Awards, Cheekwood brings art, education and horticulture to hundreds of thousands of visitors, families and school children every year.

ECON

The Economic Club of Nashville (ECON) is a nonprofit dedicated to raising funds for more than 20 important charities focused on children and families in the Nashville area. ECON also provides a dynamic forum for community leaders to discuss economic, social and political issues of special interest to our region.
