The 35th Annual Antiques & Garden Show, presented by Northern Trust, was held from January 31st to February 2nd, 2025, at the Music City Center. Over 150 exhibitors showcased antiques, fine art, and horticulture. The event, which benefitted Cheekwood and ECON charities, celebrated curated living with the theme Cultivating Home: Life Well Tended.

The event kicked off with a Preview Party on Thursday evening, where guests enjoyed cocktails, hors d'oeuvres, and early access to the Show Floor, while music from a live jazz ensemble led by Marshall Richardson added to the ambiance. The 2025 Preview Party recognized Honorary Chairs Bunny

Williams, Elizabeth Lawrence, and Connie Cigarran and welcomed special guests Artist-in-Residence Lewis Miller and Floral Lecture speakers Shane Connolly and Willow Crossley.

Friday's events featured an inspiring lecture and book signing, highlighted by this year's keynote conversation with acclaimed actress, author, and entrepreneur Brooke Shields, alongside designer David Flint Wood. The discussion was moderated by his wife, India Hicks, who is also a designer, entrepreneur, and author. The evening concluded with a vibrant Bourbon Party, energized by live music from the A&G Bluegrass Band, led by Ron Block.
